The Greenwich Library Oral History Project (OHP), sponsored by the Friends of Greenwich Library, was founded in 1973. Its collection consists of more than 850 interviews and 137 books, based on many of the interviews. Members of the OHP are volunteers, and new members are always welcome.

Some of our Recent Interviews are:

Adopt-A Dog, interviewer, Donald Landsman

An informative interview with co-founder, Donna Nives, and current president, Allyson Halm, about the founding and expansion of this admirable animal rescue facility, which encourages the adoption of dogs and cats and provides permanent care for those animals not adopted.

At Home in Greenwich, interviewer Suzanne M. Seton

Marylin Cho, who was instrumental in establishing At Home in Greenwich, discusses this relatively new organization, and how it has evolved in the Greenwich community.

Greenwich Hospital Auxiliary and Thrift Shop, interviewer, Suzanne M. Seton

In this interview, Michelle (Mimi) Grady talks about the Greenwich Hospital Auxiliary, the hospital's Thrift Shop and Gift Shop, and reveals how the Red Barons, the hospital's male volunteers, got their name.

Riding in Greenwich, interviewer Vera Frazao

A fascinating account by the narrator, Jennifer Freedman, of the riding trails in backcountry Greenwich, the detrimental effect of residential development on them, and the acquisition of the Herbert L. Nichols Preserve by the Greenwich Riding and Trails Association.
